

CONTENTS.

	PAOB.
American Preface	iii
Translator's Preface	vii
Fac simile of Hahnemann's writing, to face page	xiv
Instruction for Surgeons respecting Venereal Diseases (1789)	1
The Friend of Health, Part I. (1792)	3
— J- For contents see p. 242
The Friend of Health, Part II. (1795)	200
Description of Klockenbring during his Insanity (1796)	243
Essay on a New Principle for ascertaining the Curative Powers of Drugs, with a few glances at those hitherto employed (1796)	249
Case of rapidly cured Coeodynia (1797)	303
Are the Obstacles to Certainty and Simplicity in Practical Medicine insurmountable? (H97)	m
Antidotes to some Heroic Vegetable Substances (1798)	322
Some kinds of Continued and Remittent Fevers (1793)	325
Some Periodical and Hebdomadal Diseases (1798.)	341
A Preface (1800)	344
Fragmentary Observations on Brown's Elements of Medicine (1801r)	350-
View of Professional Liberality at the commencement of the Nineteenth Century (1801)	362
Care and Prevention of Scarlet-fever (1801)	369
On the Power of Small Doses of Medicine in General, and of Belladonna in parti- cular (1801)	385
On a proposed Remedy for Hydrophobia (1803)	889
On the Effects of Coffee, from original Observations (1803)	891
Hyaculapius in the Balance (1805)	410
The Medicine of Experience (1805)	435
Objections to a proposed Substitute for Cinchona Bark and to Succedanea in general (1806)	476
Observations on the Scarlet-fever (1808)	479
On the present want of Foreign Medicines (1808)	484
On the Value of the Speculative Systems of Medicine, especially as viewed in connexion with the usual methods of practice with which they have been associated (1808)	488

On Substitutes for Foreign Drugs, and on the recent announcement of the Medical Faculty in Vienna relative to the Superfluosness of the latter (1808)	.505
Extract from a letter, to a Physician of High Standing on the great Necessity of a Regeneration of Medicine (1808)	.511
Observations on the Three Current Methods of Treatment (1809)	.522
To a Candidate for the Degree of M. D. (1809)	.552
On the Prevailing Fever (1809)	M .555
Signs of the Times in the Ordinary System of Medicine (1809)	.566
Medical Historical Desertation on the Helleborism of the Ancients (1812)	.569
Spirit of the Hoiiæopathic Doctrine of Medicine (1813)	.617
Treatment of the Typhus or Hospital Fever at present prevailing (1814)	.631
On the Treatment of Burns (1816)	.635
On the Venereal Disease audits ordinary improper treatment (1816)	.646
Nota bene for my Reviewers (1817)	.659
Examination of the Sources of the ordinary Materia Medica (1817)	.664
Oti the Uncharitableness towards Suicides (1819)	.695
Treatment of the Purpura Miliaris (1821)	.695
On the Preparation and Dispensing of Medicines by Homoeopathic Physicians themselves:
I. Representation to a Person high in Authority (1820)	.696
II. The Homoeopathic Physician is prevented by no existing Laws regulating medical practice, from himself Administering his Medicines to his patients (1821)	.703
III. How may Homoeopathy be most certainly eradicated? (1825)	.706
Contrast of the Old and New systems of Medicine (1825)	.712
The Medical Observer (1825)	.724
How can Small Doses of such very Attenuated Medicine as Homoeopathy employs still possess great power! (1827)	.728
On the Impregnation of the Globules with Medicine (1829)	.735
Allopathy: a word of Warning to all Sick Persons (1831)	.736
Cure and Prevention of the Asiatic Cholera (1831)	.753
Appeal to thinking Philanthropists respecting the mode of Propagation of the Asiatic Cholera (1831)	.756
Remarks on the extreme Attenuation of Homoeopathic remedies (1832)	.763
Cases illustrative of Homoeopathic Practice (1833)	.766
Two cases from Hahnemann's Note book (1843)	.773